EXPERIENCE

International Matex Tank Terminaling (IMTT) Corporate Development Analyst	New Orleans, LA April 2024 – Present

- Own and build 100% of commercial DCF models and ~50% of corporate development models used to evaluate and inform investment and commercial decisions. Have completed 40+ models across opportunities ranging from $50K facility upgrades to $150MM strategic initiatives resulting in 25+ deal closures $500MM+ of capital deployment across IMTT's terminal network
- Led CRM platform selection and implementation to migrate the commercial and business development teams from Excel-based relationship tracking, then led workflow design, custom reporting logic, automation buildout, and user training
- Served as lead CRM administrator and developed multiple CRM automations used daily by 20 team members, including a proprietary activity tracker that notifies sales reps when to re-engage customers based on relationship cadence and account activity
- Streamlined project evaluation and diligence workflows by developing standardized modeling tools, including a commercial model template, a dynamic, nearly fully automated dock simulation model, and a buy-versus-lease capex framework adopted by operations leadership across all terminals
- Improved project underwriting accuracy by refining terminal-level tax and insurance assumptions, helping avoid blanket inputs that could have led to mispricing or rejection of attractive opportunities
