INFLUENCING

1. Activator®

What Is Activator?

"When can we start?" This is a recurring question for Activators. People with strong Activator talents are impatient for action. They may concede that analysis has its uses or that debate and discussion can occasionally yield some valuable insights, but deep down they know that only action is real. Once a decision is made, they must act. Others may worry that "there are still some things we don't know," but this doesn't seem to slow Activators down. They make a decision, take action, look at the result and learn. The bottom line is this: Activators know they will be judged not by what they say or what they think, but by what they get done. This does not frighten them. It energizes them.

Why Your Activator Is Unique

These Strengths Insights are personalized based on your CliftonStrengths results.

ActivatorIdeation*Input*Individualization*Arranger

Driven by your talents, you openly admit that you participate in friendly rivalries for fun. You are comfortable letting people know what you do and do not value.

Chances are good that you expend mental energy reviewing detailed facts and precise data. Once you have evaluated a sufficient amount of information — not necessarily all of it — you feel compelled to move forward quickly.

Instinctively, you routinely spark the enthusiasm of individuals. Your own job, studies, or life becomes much more exhilarating when you help others more fully experience their lives.

Because of your strengths, you get up and get busy every day. You make things happen rather than hope something happens.

It's very likely that you usually declare what needs to be done. You probably rely on others to initiate discussions or small talk. Characteristically you avoid having to explain or defend your choices. You are inclined to move quickly so activity reduces the possibility of time-consuming dialogue.

How Activator Blends With Your Other Top Five Strengths

ACTIVATOR + IDEATION

You know that the best ideas are those that are converted into action, and the best actions are those that are informed by creative ideas.

ACTIVATOR + INPUT

You are often the spark of energy that gets things started, but you are also a source of tangible resources that can support the action.

ACTIVATOR + INDIVIDUALIZATION

You always want people to take action and do something, and you want their actions to be aligned with who they are.

ACTIVATOR + ARRANGER

Your sense of urgency gets people moving, and your flexible coordination enables them to keep moving and stay productive.

Apply Your Activator to Succeed

Be the person who helps others take action to succeed.

- ☐ When you see someone do something excellent, tell them right away. This positive reinforcement of their actions can help motivate them to repeat what they did.
- ☐ Remember that not everyone is as ready as you are to jump into action. Make sure those around you are prepared to act so they can meet your energy with excitement instead of fear.

STRATEGIC THINKING

2. Ideation®

What Is Ideation?

People with strong Ideation talents are creative and appreciate originality. They relish free-thinking experiences such as brainstorming and discussion groups. They have a natural capacity to consider issues from multiple perspectives. They revel in taking the world we all know and turning it around so people can view it from a strangely enlightening angle. They think outside the box. They are fascinated by new ideas and concepts, which come to them easily. They love ideas because they can be profound, they can be novel, they can be clarifying, they can be contrary, and they can be bizarre. For all of these reasons, they derive a jolt of energy whenever a new idea occurs to them.

Why Your Ideation Is Unique

These Strengths Insights are personalized based on your CliftonStrengths results.

Activator	Ideation	Input	Individualization	Arranger
-----------	----------	-------	-------------------	----------

- Chances are good that you enjoy spending time with possibility thinkers. This is often the case when they present intriguing ideas that no one else has considered. You enjoy exploring the fascinating frontiers of medicine, politics, fashion, renewable energy sources, humanitarian aid, or the arts.
- Because of your strengths, you long to know more so you remain on the cutting edge of your field or areas of interest. Your inventive mind usually generates more possibilities than you can handle or fund. Nonetheless, you are committed to acquiring knowledge and/or skills. You study everything involved in a situation and conceive entirely new ways of seeing or doing things. What you already know prompts you to ask questions and delve even deeper into a subject or problem.
- Instinctively, you may find that certain individuals solicit your ideas or views on specific issues. Even though you might like working by yourself, some people feel comfortable interrupting you with their questions. Some may ask what you think or feel about sensitive topics, internal organizational battles, or the behavior of particular individuals.
- Driven by your talents, you trust your ability to be an innovative thinker. You routinely invent many ways you can reach a single goal. Only then do you start narrowing down your options to the best one. You probably take into consideration prevailing circumstances, available resources, budgetary constraints, or pressing deadlines.

It's very likely that you might take part in thought-filled conversations with selected colleagues or classmates. Together, you may sift through possibilities. Sometimes you assess the pros and cons of each person's innovative theories, suggestions, or proposals. During these verbal exchanges, ideas occasionally expand, narrow, or take on new forms. Perhaps you thrive in settings where most people feel safe thinking out loud.

How Ideation Blends With Your Other Top Five Strengths

IDEATION + ACTIVATOR

You know that the best ideas are those that are converted into action, and the best actions are those that are informed by creative ideas.

IDEATION + INPUT

You experience great satisfaction when you transform your creative thinking into something tangible and useful.

IDEATION + INDIVIDUALIZATION

Your creativity is never general. Your best creativity is customized for someone in particular.

IDEATION + ARRANGER

Your success often involves your willingness to consider new ways to get things done as well as your ability to create those new ways.

Apply Your Ideation to Succeed

Look for areas that would benefit from an innovative approach.

- ☐ Spend time with imaginative people discussing and refining your ideas. Together, you can think up new possibilities.
- ☐ Look for different connections and generate new insights when things don't make sense in a certain area. Whereas others might be unsure or unclear about what to do next, you can quickly brainstorm multiple options for consideration.

STRATEGIC THINKING

3. Input®

What Is Input?

People with strong Input talents are inquisitive and always want to know more. They crave information. They might collect ideas, books, memorabilia, quotations or facts. Whatever they collect, they do so because it interests them. They find many things interesting and have a natural curiosity. The world is exciting precisely because of its infinite variety and complexity. A few minutes spent surfing the internet may turn into hours once their curiosity takes off. They constantly acquire, compile and file things away. Their pursuits keep their minds fresh. They know that one day the information or things they've gathered will prove valuable.

Why Your Input Is Unique

These Strengths Insights are personalized based on your CliftonStrengths results.

ActivatorIdeation*Input*Individualization*Arranger

Instinctively, you may be inclined to read certain types of books, publications, or Internet sites that offer tips on how you might improve yourself as a person, a parent, a student, a professional, an investor, or a craftsperson. Perhaps you are unapologetic about wanting to conquer some of your shortcomings.

Because of your strengths, you may gather historical facts or artifacts — that is, pictures, tools, books, artwork, correspondence, or documents. Perhaps you wait to determine whether this information is useful. Your interest in history might have no purpose other than to answer your own questions. Maybe you are drawn to the past and its people. In some ways, the future starts to take shape in your mind if you rummage through your collection of historic truths and objects.

Chances are good that you may notice interesting things that others do not. While some people resist novelty, you often believe that new experiences continue to make life fascinating.

By nature, you might read certain types of books, publications, or Internet sites. You periodically collect information, insights, or facts for later reference. Maybe you feel comfortable telling a few people about the ideas or theories that strike you as correct.

It's very likely that you are not afraid to plunge into new experiences. For you, every day presents an opportunity to explore something unfamiliar, and that excites you.

How Input Blends With Your Other Top Five Strengths

INPUT + ACTIVATOR

You are often the spark of energy that gets things started, but you are also a source of tangible resources that can support the action.

INPUT + IDEATION

You experience great satisfaction when you transform your creative thinking into something tangible and useful.

INPUT + INDIVIDUALIZATION

You gather valuable resources, mindful of their usefulness. You share valuable resources, mindful of their relevance.

INPUT + ARRANGER

You contribute to a team's productivity by aligning the human resources and by providing the most useful tools and equipment.

Apply Your Input to Succeed

Find different ways to gather and organize resources.

- ☐ Develop a system for storing and easily finding information to share with others. This can be as simple as an email folder setup or as sophisticated as a computer database. This system will help you quickly locate information that you can share with others.
- ☐ Meet with people interested in learning about the information you have collected. During your conversation, ask them to help you by taking notes or recording the talk. This could be another way to keep track of your resources.

RELATIONSHIP BUILDING

4. Individualization®

What Is Individualization?

People with strong Individualization talents understand and are intrigued by others' unique qualities. Impatient with generalizations, they focus on the differences among individuals. They instinctively observe each person's style and motivation, how each thinks, and how each builds relationships. They keenly observe other people's strengths and draw out the best in each person. Their Individualization talents help them build productive teams. While some search for the perfect team "structure" or "process," these employees know instinctively that the secret to great teams is casting by individual strengths — so that everyone can do a lot of what they already do well.

Because of your strengths, you frequently marvel at how good your life is. Favorable feelings flood over you when you determine how diverse individuals can better cooperate with one another. You are happy when you can figure out how they can be more productive. You are delighted when people begin to appreciate each other's talents, knowledge, and skills.

Instinctively, you sense when a person requires your assistance. You characteristically initiate conversations with timid individuals who struggle to express their thoughts or feelings. You probably respond to people even before they state their needs. Many individuals conclude you are caring and kind.

Driven by your talents, you can show people from diverse backgrounds or with different interests how to cooperate and work productively with one another.

By nature, you like to set up systems for dealing with repetitious tasks. You are delighted when everyone in a group adopts your methodical procedures. People who insist on performing an assignment, chore, or program their own way annoy you. These individuals probably create problems for others by missing deadlines, delivering incomplete work, forgetting to fill out forms, spending time on the wrong activities, or wasting money.

Chances are good that you sense people appreciate the advice you give them. You believe that you help individuals deal with problems and take advantage of opportunities.

How Individualization Blends With Your Other Top Five Strengths

INDIVIDUALIZATION + ACTIVATOR

You always want people to take action and do something, and you want their actions to be aligned with who they are.

INDIVIDUALIZATION + IDEATION

Your creativity is never general. Your best creativity is customized for someone in particular.

INDIVIDUALIZATION + INPUT

You gather valuable resources, mindful of their usefulness. You share valuable resources, mindful of their relevance.

INDIVIDUALIZATION + ARRANGER

You can form a talented team by having the best person in every role and at the same time, the perfect role for every person.

Apply Your Individualization to Succeed

Explain how different people can do their best work together.

- ☐ Support others in discovering and appreciating what they do best, and then encourage them to work on projects and tasks that let them be successful.
- ☐ Help people become more aware of others' unique needs. Because you naturally notice how an individual thinks and builds relationships, people will come to you for insights into other people's motivations and actions.

EXECUTING

5. Arranger®

What Is Arranger?

Arrangers are conductors. When faced with a complex situation involving many factors, people with strong Arranger talents enjoy managing all of the variables, aligning and realigning them until they are sure they have arranged them in the most productive configuration possible. They are shining examples of effective flexibility, whether they are changing travel schedules at the last minute because they found a better fare or are mulling over just the right combination of people and resources to accomplish a new project. From the mundane to the complex, they are always looking for the perfect configuration.

Why Your Arranger Is Unique

These Strengths Insights are personalized based on your CliftonStrengths results.

ActivatorIdeation*Input*Individualization*Arranger

Instinctively, you feel life is good even when you must handle last-minute problems. Your concentration typically intensifies once you grasp the gravity of the situation and the time constraints within which you must operate. You probably function better in crisis situations than in environments where everything is predictable.

Chances are good that you feel upbeat when you spend more time using your talents than fixing your limitations. You probably have noticed you progress faster and accomplish more when you give yourself permission to do what you do well.

Driven by your talents, you often are the peacemaker and the peacekeeper of your group. You help your teammates find areas where they can agree. This explains how you reduce tension within the group as well as conflicts between individuals.

It's very likely that you enjoy partnering with people who bring a unique point of view to the group's discussions. You are quite comfortable asking your teammates for their ideas and their positions on a wide array of topics.

By nature, you regularly think about what you need to upgrade, perfect, or do better. These discoveries help you determine the number of things you can handle simultaneously. You often produce first-rate results when you have multiple tasks to perform and goals to reach. You tend to be less effective when you are forced to give all your attention to one project or one objective.

How Arranger Blends With Your Other Top Five Strengths

ARRANGER + ACTIVATOR

Your sense of urgency gets people moving, and your flexible coordination enables them to keep moving and stay productive.

ARRANGER + IDEATION

Your success often involves your willingness to consider new ways to get things done as well as your ability to create those new ways.

ARRANGER + INPUT

You contribute to a team's productivity by aligning the human resources and by providing the most useful tools and equipment.

ARRANGER + INDIVIDUALIZATION

You can form a talented team by having the best person in every role and at the same time, the perfect role for every person.

Apply Your Arranger to Succeed

Help people figure out better ways of working together.

- ☐ Come up with different ways to become more efficient. Look for redundancy and impediments in the processes you follow the most often so you can find new ways of doing them.
- ☐ Look for chances to work in complex, dynamic environments that let you coordinate and develop strategies for getting things done. This will bring out your best.
